

CIEH (Level 2) Foundation Certificate in Food Safety

Foundation Award in Food Safety in Catering (formerly Basic Food Hygiene Level 2)

This qualification has been developed by the Chartered Institute of Environmental Health and is an essential qualification for all those involved in preparing, cooking and serving food for the public. It should be reviewed every 3 years. It is nationally recognised by Local Authority officers and food safety auditors and should be available for inspection in the workplace at any time.

Why is this training important?

Food business operators must ensure employees are supervised, instructed and trained in food hygiene matters to a level that is commensurate with their role. The Foundation Award in Food Safety in Catering is the entrance level qualification for those who are actively involved in the preparation, cooking and service of food to the general public

This course reinforces the importance of food safety and provides learners with an understanding of how to identify and control food safety hazards in their own workplace.

Who should attend?

- Food handlers who prepare and cook food for consumers
- Anyone wishing to refresh previously learned skills and knowledge
- Staff development
- Self-employed small business owners wishing to start-up a food offer
- Hospital staff (catering), school canteen staff, coffee-shops , sandwich shops, mobile caterers

Course Programme

- The importance of Food Safety
- Food poisoning and food borne diseases
- Causes of food poisoning
- Contamination and food safety hazards
- Time and temperature control and food storage
- Personal hygiene, cleaning and disinfection
- Pest control and kitchen design
- Legislation and enforcement

Duration: 1 day

Assessment: Multiple choice examination. Successful candidates must achieve 14/20. The assessment paper is marked by the tutor and all certificates will be sent by First Class mail within 1 week.

Contact us now for more information or to discuss any aspect of the course.

Email consultancy@fatc.co.uk or call 07732 637292 www.fatc.co.uk